

Product Change Notification

New self-aligning assembly feature

The new patent-pending feature included on UAP letterplates automatically aligns fixing screws with the corresponding receiving screw boss. This means that there will be no 'false starts' when starting to screw the inner and outer frames together. The design of the screw boss itself has also been made even better, so both features work together to provide a quicker and stronger assembly.

